THE EMPOWERMENT MARKET

EMPOWERMENT analyses the achievements made by our national government with regards to:

- Empowerment across the continent. The secrets of Africa's transformation success
- The revised B-BBEE Codes
- DTI's black industrialist programme
- How has BEE changed South Africa's economic landscape? Empowerment and the JSE
- Employment equity: the role of the Department of Labour
- How much is corporate South Africa contributing towards skills development
- Developing small and medium enterprises: the result of preferential procurement
- Pioneers in empowerment – diversity and mainstreaming at CEO level
- The role of rating agencies in promoting BEE
- Black-owned and managed enterprises and SMMEs

EMPOWERMENT offers businesses a powerful distribution platform to showcase transformation achievements.

A SPECIAL FOCUS ON THE BLACK MANAGEMENT FORUM

The Black Management Forum (BMF) was founded in 1976 with the primary purpose of influencing socio-economic transformation in South Africa. The organisation stands for the development and empowerment of managerial leadership, primarily among black people, within organisations that reflect the demographics of our country. Empowerment will look at the successes of the BMF, as well as the advances made by black people in the social and economic mainstream.

THE ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION

We take a critical look at how our country's transformation goals within the private and public sector fair when talking about the values, vision and interest of our founding fathers within a political and professional sense as espoused by the BMF.

These are just a few of the conversation starters... We encourage you to get involved and be a part of a collective effort to make a real change.
